

ALEXANDRIA.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 23.

"ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS, in public and private, with his speeches and letters, before and since the late war, by Henry Cleveland"—is the title of a very handsome volume—indeed a most creditable specimen of the typographical art, in every way—which will be read with interest, by many of the people of this country, North and South. Mr. Stephens, both in his own State, and on broader theatres, has made his mark, as a statesman, an orator, and a lawyer. His public career has been an honorable one, and in many respects may be regarded as a fine example for our young men, giving them lessons of what application and industry, combined with talents, may effect. The official situations formerly and recently held by Mr. Stephens make his views, opinions, and political course, attractive subjects. He is one of the ablest of the many distinguished men from the State of Georgia who have adorned the annals of this country. The memoir of Mr. Stephens which prefaces the speeches and letters, is evidently, the "labor of love," of a devoted friend, and, therefore, its rather too eulogistic strain, in some particulars, may be excused. As for the speeches, they, for the most part, display strength of mind, and vigor of language, and may well be referred to for information and instruction on several important matters of public policy.

FARMERS' BANK OF VIRGINIA—The Richmond Times says:—"This bank on Saturday made a deed of trust, assigning all of its assets to John M. Giddin and Samuel C. Robinson, who are the Cashier and President of the Farmers' National Bank. The deed is for the benefit of all its creditors, giving preference to its note holders, providing it be lawful. Should such preference not be lawful, then the assignment is for all creditors equally and equitably to share and share alike. The deed also provides for the payment of the salaries of all the officers of this bank since its suspension."

Mr. Brownell has submitted a resolution in the House, declaring the competency of three-fourths of the States now represented in Congress, to amend the Constitution, and upon a motion involving its consideration, the vote stood 94 to 33. It was referred to the "Reconstruction Committee" by a strict party vote. It also contained a declaration that the unrepresented States were wholly incompetent to act upon the "Constitutional amendment," for not adopting which, in hot haste, so much abuse has been lavished upon them.

Speaking of recent English literature, the Petersburg Express states that "Dickens has fallen beneath himself in his Christmas stories entitled 'Mugby Junction,' Miss Braddon, the sensation novelist, does not sustain her reputation in 'Lady Adelaide's Oath,' nor has Miss Maryatt succeeded in gaining even a romantic celebrity by anything she has written since her first attempt." The new novels, by other authors, generally bear the stamp of mediocrity.

The Richmond Whig says, that "Brevet Brig. Gen. G. W. Gile, formerly in command of the garrison at Washington, but lately on duty in the Freedmen's Bureau, has been appointed First Lieutenant in the 45th infantry, and honorably mustered out of the volunteer service. He will be remembered by theatre-goers as a passable actor at the 'Marshall Theatre' of Richmond some ten years ago.

Alluding to the large number of fire insurance companies applying for a reduction of capital to the New York Legislature, the Express says the losses of the stockholders are great and that the marine insurance companies are not in much better circumstances, some of them being obliged to call in one-half of their scrip dividends of former years.

A petition from Louisville was presented to the State Senate of Kentucky on Saturday, asking an appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars for the suffering poor of the South. A resolution was offered in the Kentucky House of Delegates appropriating fifty thousand dollars to the Southern poor.

The prevailing opinion among the Southern planters is, that they will make more money by reducing the area planted in cotton, as compared with the number of hands employed, and devoting more acres to corn. An experienced planter says they will make more cotton, as well as corn.

By the bill "to regulate the tenure of certain civil offices," which has recently passed the Senate, the President can remove no one from office (saving Cabinet officers) without the consent of the Senate. In other words, the Senate has the same voice in the removals that it has heretofore had in appointments.

The Senate, yesterday, rejected several nominations of the President to various offices, viz:—8 Collectors of Customs; 7 Collectors of Internal Revenue; 3 Assessors of Internal Revenue; 1 Naval Officer; 1 Appraiser; and 1 Captain in the Revenue service.

Advices from Rio de Janeiro to the 23d ult., say that the war between Brazil and Paraguay is still going on. Brazil is building five iron clad steamers. An insurrection in Paraguay has occurred.

The Indiana Legislature has before it a bill to make "bolting" from either house by any member, when a question is before it, a misdemeanor, punishable with one thousand dollars fine.

The recent snow storm extended to Florida.

In view of the present state of things in Virginia, the Richmond Enquirer urges the adoption of a Homestead Exemption, and proposes to give the creditor who desires or is willing to compromise his claim on some liberal basis, the option of forcing such a settlement, and to uncover such debtors as will not settle even on their own ideas of equity. The Enquirer gives a gloomy description of the financial condition of the Commonwealth and the people.

The last "Occasional" letter of Mr. Forney says: "I have just met a gentleman from Arkansas, of high character, who says that four Union men are murdered in that State on an average every day." Now isn't this enough to disgust even those for whose palates such a dish is prepared? Cannot all men perceive for what purpose such tales are concocted and circulated? It is a sin and a shame to be concerned in fabricating such stories.

The House of Representatives was in session all last night, on Mr. Boutwell's bill prescribing an oath to public officers, members of the bar, &c. The usual antics of a night session were played off. Of the merits of the bill it is enough to say, that it undertakes to accomplish by legislation what the Supreme Court has decided to be unconstitutional.

In the West Virginia Legislature a bill has been introduced which provides that the people of Virginia shall not collect debts from citizens in West Virginia so long as the latter are prevented by the Virginia stay law from collecting debts due from citizens of Virginia.

It is asserted that a million of persons, in British India, have starved to death, during the present famine, in that country.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the times."

A mysterious movement on the part of the Fenians of New Orleans is reported by telegraph from that city. The organization styled "The Knights of Arabia" is also active there. Head Centre McCleary has ordered all able-bodied Fenians to report for duty immediately. A suspicious vessel was preparing for sea at Mobile.

Haynes has reported the occurrence of a well authenticated case of spontaneous combustion at Watervliet Arsenal, resulting from the spreading of sawdust—instead of sand, as was ordered—on some linseed oil which had leaked from a barrel. JAMES MARSHALL—We regret to hear that this gentleman declines a re-election to the House of Delegates from this county. We understand that his declination is influenced by a report that he will meet with opposition for his seat in the councils of the State. We have heard of no such report and cannot believe in its truth. We therefore earnestly call upon the public to give expression to their wishes on the subject, as we know of no one whose legal ability and purity of character is a surer guarantee, to the extent of his influence, of the justice and impartiality of our State legislation.—Warrenton Index.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

The company (of which Hon. A. R. Boteler is President) who have bought the Boteler mills near Shepherdstown, intend improving them upon a large scale. They expect to employ about one hundred and fifty hands during the coming summer, in throwing a new dam across the Potomac, rebuilding the large Mill, and converting a portion of it into a factory, as well as carrying on the Cement Mills there upon a larger scale than ever before. We understand that they also intend erecting about thirty brick dwelling houses.

The checks, amounting to about $30,000, which disappeared so mysteriously last week from the National Exchange Bank of Richmond, turned up yesterday afternoon. Mr. Charles Allen, the receiving teller—who has never yet been satisfied that the checks were lost—found them in a roll of cancelled checks which had been put aside by one of the book-keepers.

VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE—In the Senate, on Monday, a protracted discussion took place on the proposition to exempt the Polish immigrants lately settled in Spotsylvania county, from taxation for three years. It was determined in the negative. At the close of the discussion, Mr. Ould referred to the fact that the Constitution prohibits the appropriation of any part of the revenue of the Commonwealth to individuals not paupers.

House bill to amend section 1 of an act authorizing the City Council of Alexandria, to issue its bonds in satisfaction of arrears of interest on its funded debt, passed February 20th, 1866, was passed.

In the House of Delegates, a number of bills were passed of local interest mainly. A bill to pay for supplies furnished the Eastern Lunatic Asylum elicited a debate, and after being amended, was ordered to its third reading. A bill allowing the sheriffs two months additional time in which to pay in the revenues of the Commonwealth, was passed. The joint resolution of the Senate, for the election of Register of Land Office, was referred to the Committee on Officers and Offices. A number of resolutions and petitions were presented.

CONGRESS—In the Senate, yesterday, a bill to equalize the bounties of soldiers, sailors, and marines was referred to the Military Committee. A resolution instructing the Committee on Public Lands to inquire into the construction by the Department of the Interior of the congressional acts granting lands to aid in the construction of certain railroads—the construction of said department being injurious to the interests of settlers—was agreed to. The Tariff bill came up, and pending its consideration the Senate adjourned.

M. this morning the House was still in session, having the bill under consideration.

PRICE OF BREADSTUFFS—Everybody remarks upon the price of bread, and its poor quality. Early last week flour arrived in large quantities—more than 9,000 barrels were received in one day from New Orleans by sea. Wheat has sympathized closely with flour, and the wholesale decline is 10 cents per bushel on all descriptions. Receipts at Milwaukee and Chicago, also, are increasing, though moderate, and the shipments there eastward are not liberal. Prices decline in Western markets in sympathy with this, and private advices speak of much less confidence in the realization of the extreme views entertained in December. Corn, also, is dull notwithstanding a margin in favor of shipments to Liverpool. We nowhere see in the retail market any evidence of the fall in the wholesale markets of the country.—*N. Y. A SWINDLER—On Wednesday last, our town was visited by a stranger claiming to have belonged to the Confederate army and appealing for assistance to carry him to his home in Indiana. He pretended to be deaf and dumb, and carried a paper setting forth that he was a Confederate soldier of Stonewall Jackson's corps, had been wounded at the battle of Antietam, &c. After swindling a number of our citizens out of contributions by this means through the day, he had the boldness, at night, to lay aside his dumbness and enter into conversation with some young ladies of our town, even chuckling over his success. On Thursday, he took the train for Winchester, and is doubtless making his way up the Valley.—Charlestown Spirit.

SAFETY OF THE RAILROAD BRIDGE.

To the President and Directors of the Washington, Alexandria and Georgetown Railroad Company:
GENTLEMEN:—Under your instructions I examined the bridge on your road over the Potomac river, on the 1st instant, and reported that it would be safer if the long spans on the Virginia side were supported in the centre by trestles. I have this day examined the bridge again, and found that trestles have been placed under the centre of each span, as recommended, and the bridge, in my opinion, is safer and stronger than when first built, and is perfectly secure for the passage of the trains required for the local and through business of the road.

Very respectfully,
(Signed,) JOHN ELLICOTT,
Civil Engineer.
